

EIGHT WEEKS TO A COMPLETE NOVEL — HANDOUTS

BeckyClarkBooks.com

Sample 8 weeks chart —

Week 1 — outline and synopsis

Week 2 — write (60k) ... [if you work] 7 days=2143/day 5 days=3000/day 4 days=3750/day

Week 3 — write (60k) ... [if you work] 7 days=2143/day 5 days=3000/day 4 days=3750/day

Week 4 — write (60k) ... [if you work] 7 days=2143/day 5 days=3000/day 4 days=3750/day

Week 5 — write (60k) ... [if you work] 7 days=2143/day 5 days=3000/day 4 days=3750/day

Week 6 — editing (240 pgs) ... 7 days=18 pgs/day 5 days=24 pgs/day 4 days=30 pgs/day

Week 7 — editing (240 pgs) ... 7 days=18 pgs/day 5 days=24 pgs/day 4 days=30 pgs/day

Week 8 — final polish (240 pgs) ... 7 days=35 pgs/day 5 days=48 pgs/day 4 days=60 pgs/day

- Malcolm Gladwell's 10,000 Hour Rule

<http://www.businessinsider.com/malcolm-gladwell-explains-the-10000-hour-rule-2014-6>

- Blake Snyder's "Save the Cat"

<https://timstout.wordpress.com/story-structure/blake-snyders-beat-sheet/>

- Rachel Aaron's blog post about writing 10k words per day (She also wrote a book about it)

<http://thisblogisaploy.blogspot.com/2011/06/how-i-went-from-writing-2000-words-day.html>

- free blank calendar sites I use

<http://www.wincalendar.com/2017-Word-Calendar>

<https://www.worksheetworks.com/miscellanea/calendars.html>

<http://www.calendarlabs.com/calendar-templates/>

- And samples of the blank calendars I use are on the next pages.